

Announcing a color theory workshop!

What is the color of warm red? How about a cool yellow? How do you find a neutral blue or just the right warm green? These and other color queries are answered as we tackle color families and pigments. We will explore value scales, and use exercises with complementary and analogous colors to develop an “eye” for subtleties between colors. Students will leave with completed color charts and a wealth of knowledge to arm them to handle any painting with confidence.
